The crime scenes are horrifying: the victims arranged with deliberate care, posed to appear alive despite their agonized last moments and the shocking nature of their deaths.

Chattanooga grief counselor Audrey Sherrod moonlights for the local police. It's clear to her, and to Special Agent J.D. Cass, that the murders are the work of a deranged serial killer. At first, the only link is the victims' similar appearance. But then another connection emerges, tying them to a long-ago series of horrifying crimes Audrey hoped would never resurface—crimes that hit all too close to home.

Each grisly new discovery proves the past has not been forgotten, and the worst is yet to come. Audrey went looking for the truth and she's about to find it...and it will be more twisted and more terrifying than she ever imagined.

A new, more dangerous vortex has opened in the besieged Earth and the innocent souls of animals are being invaded by the malevolent strength of a powerful demon. For Ginny Jones, there can be no greater wrong—and to make it right, she joins forces with the Lemurian, Alton, a hard-bodied hero not of her world. Under a black moon, pitched battles for the survival of all that is good will be fought once more. The heat of their sensual passion emboldens the two warriors...but such passion may well betray them.

Yet Alton is willing to make the ultimate sacrifice—life itself—for the human woman he loves. But time is fast running out....

The vicious attack Capt. Gabriel Huntley witnesses in the dark alley of a distant seaport sparks a chain of events that will take him to the ends of the Earth and beyond—where what is real and what is imagined become terribly confused. And frankly, Huntley couldn't be more pleased. Having just given up his commission in Her Majesty's Army, the prospect of settling down to a staid bank job terrifies him. Intrigue, danger, and a beautiful woman in distress—now that's more like it.

Raised thousands of miles from England, Thalia Burgess is no typical Victorian lady. A good thing, too, because a proper fainting lady would have no hope of recovering the priceless magical artifact Thalia is after. And Huntley's assistance might come in handy, though she has to keep him in the dark. But the captain's muscles are proving as much of a distraction as they are a protection. And this pretty-boy soldier isn't easy to deceive.

Security expert Gates Bromley's number one priority is protecting art collector Dav Gianikopolis. But when he joins forces with CIA Agent Ana Burton to trace several pieces of stolen art, Gates is distracted by the leggy brunette who stirs up the raciest thoughts.

After botching an operation that cost her colleagues' lives, Ana has been reassigned to cold cases. When news gets out that she's reopened a case involving stolen art and five brutal murders, Ana is almost killed. Seeking comfort in Gates's strong embrace is easy, but surrendering trust to the sexiest man she's ever known isn't—unless Gates can show her that an attraction this hot is worth all the risks. But first he'll have to stop a killer who's bent on keeping the past buried.

Madelene Colgate has three days to find a husband—or her family’s wealth is forever lost. It’s no wonder she plays into the hands of Gabriel Westcott, a devilishly handsome stranger all too happy to make her his wife. Madelene is relieved to be wed, until she discovers Gabriel’s true identity: He is her brother’s mortal enemy...and he has trapped her into a marriage of revenge!

But once Gabriel is alone with his new bride, he finds that his fantasies of disgracing Madelene and her family are less appealing than other, more sensual ideas. For Madelene is no weak-willed miss, but a beautiful woman who knows what she wants. And what she wants is an annulment...unless Gabriel can convince her that a real marriage—in every sense—would be the greatest prize of all.

praise for THE NOTORIOUS BRIDEGROOM

“Donner packs the plot of her debut Regency historical with a surefeit of danger and intrigue, and the romance between her unconventional heroine and rakish hero generates plenty of sexy sparks.” —Booklist

When Reuben Tarz and Daniel Bishop met, they were hardly more than boys, brought together by their connection to beautiful, worldly Marchioness Michelene Fonsard, known to all as Madame Mickey. Twenty years later, Reuben is a Hollywood mogul and Daniel has become a renowned Washington D.C. lawyer. Life has rewarded both with riches, success, and beautiful wives, if not always contentment.

Out of the blue, an urgent telephone call from Mickey summons Daniel to France to rescue Philippe, the son Reuben never knew existed, and bring him to America. Philippe's arrival will be the catalyst that changes everything—unearthing old secrets and betrayals and forging surprising new bonds. And with each revelation comes that rarest of gifts: a chance to learn from the sins of the past and forge a path to happiness at last...

In Rebecca York's "Night Ecstasy," New Orleans is a city pulsing with every forbidden pleasure three-hundred-year-old vampire Jules DeMario desires—including artist Taylor Lawson. And as their relationship becomes more intimate and erotic, more than Taylor's creativity finds stimulation.

In "Velvet Night" by Rosemary Laurey, police officer Vickie Anderson is in the Virginia mountains looking for solitude. What she finds is seductive Pete Falcon. The cop in her says stay away. But the woman in her can't resist his almost feral combination of sex and danger.

Linda Thomas Sundstrom's "Midnight Court" introduces handsome Christopher Dante, a creature of the night who is as lustful as any man. At Lord Rothchilde's infamously debauched Midnight Court, he meets temptation: the innocent future bride of Lord Rothchilde, himself. But in this Midnight Court, both Dante and his jealous former lover, Elizabeth, will have to risk their hearts in order to survive.

Tanisha Butler doesn't want to spend the rest of her thirties as a lonely single mother, just like Adrienne Sheppard is sick of wasting her twenties without a man in sight. No, these sistahs want money and security and they want it now. So they come up with the perfect plan: have a rich man's baby and walk away with a fat chunk of his cash for child support. They won't have to work or play wifey, and they'll get to enjoy life while they're still young.

Before long, Adrienne scores big by making an NFL star a proud papa. Tanisha snags a pro basketball player in Europe. Their plan is working—until Adrienne's man finds out about all the other rich athletes in her past. And Tanisha's man comes back to the U.S. only to discover that his ex, Dionne, wants him back. Now, Dionne is dead-set on getting rid of Tanisha, while Tanisha is determined to hang on to her baby's rich daddy. All three are about to find out that getting exactly what you want can be a very dangerous game.

A successful career woman, wife, and mother of two stepsons, Coreen Holmes Treadwell has done well for herself—in spite of the heartwrenching secret that haunts her. At seventeen, Coreen was the victim of a vicious date rape—and an unwanted pregnancy that ended in adoption. Neither the passage of time, nor her silence, have dulled her pain. Even now, years later, Coreen is torn between guilt toward the daughter she never knew and the family she has never been completely honest with. Unable to help herself, Coreen has focused her energy on helping others, becoming the renowned head of a social welfare agency.

When thirty-year-old Frieda Davis finally locates her biological mother, her goal is not a warm embrace or poignant reunion. Having suffered years of abuse at the hands of her adoptive father, Frieda vowed to find the woman who gave her away and tell her the horrific consequences of her decision. Observing Coreen from afar, Frieda is increasingly driven to punish her, and sets out on a devious course to infiltrate her life. It is a mission of vengeance, betrayal, and seduction that will touch everyone Coreen loves, and end in an explosive climax that will change them all.

It's the last chance for Jacob Gamble, Rough Rider, outlaw, and man of a few principles. Nearing 50 and flat broke, Jacob bends his own rule about robbing trains. But by the time he reaches the payroll safe on a Rock Island train, he finds another thief there first with a bullet in his head. Jacob is caught holding the bag—and turned into a hero. A broke hero.

Shackled by unwanted fame, running from a life gone wrong, and raising the suspicions of a Pinkerton detective, Jacob listens to a woman: beautiful and tattooed by the Indians who seized her as a child. Olivia Weathers knows of a treasure hidden in a cave along the Jornado del Muerto—a merciless hundred mile stretch of hell on earth guarded by Apache warriors. Now, Jacob will follow Olivia into the most savage and deadly territory in the southwest—where few ever come out alive.

THE LONER: DEAD MAN'S GOLD

J.A. Johnstone

New York Times bestselling author J.A. Johnstone's third installment of an exciting new western series—a spinoff of The Last Gunfighter.

With his wife's killers dead and buried, Conrad Morgan—known as The Loner—is on his way to Mexico for some peace and quiet. But on the way he's sidetracked by some intriguing travelers who are hunting down a valuable golden artifact. They're not the only ones who want to get a hold of the treasure. A running gun battle with some killers lands The Loner and his cohorts in the Jornada del Muerto—a hellish, waterless wasteland in New Mexico Territory. And now it's up to The Loner to get himself and his new friends out of this arid stretch of land before they perish from thirst...or lead poisoning....

The Loner marked the debut of Tennessee-based J.A. Johnstone as a solo author. Being the all around assistant, typist, researcher, and fact checker to one of the most popular western authors of all time, J.A. learned from the master, Uncle William W. Johnstone.

In Jacquelyn Frank's "The Phoenix Project," Amara, held captive, is subjected to bizarre experiments that test the limits of her sanity. But nothing prepares her for being locked away—naked—with a sexy ex-cop...after they've been pumped full of drugs that increase their sexual appetites to animalistic intensity.

When Lemurian Guard Mica chases a demon spirit to Earth, in Kate Douglas's "Crystal Dreams," he faces a lethal battle between good and evil. His ally is Mari, a breathtakingly beautiful human who unknowingly holds the key to victory. But before the war is over, Mica's desire for his mortal companion threatens to erupt—and could cost Mari her life.

In "Spark of Temptation" by Jess Haines, P.I. Sara Halloway is blackmailed into taking a treacherous case, and is thrust into a demon war. Sara seeks guidance from a charismatic mage, but their hunger for one another soon becomes a deadly distraction...and the danger surrounding them only makes their urges more powerful.

"My Soul to Take" by Clare Willis introduces New Orleans native Dr. Maggie Dillon, who thinks she's left her past behind her—until she's enraptured by a handsome patient who has been possessed by a malevolent spirit. To find a cure, Maggie revisits her magical roots—and unleashes a primal lust too vital to ignore.

In this captivating new collection from New York Times bestselling author Hannah Howell, Victoria Dahl, and Heather Grothaus, three women meet the irresistible vampires who are their destinies—and discover a passion satisfied only by complete surrender.

In Hannah Howell's "The Beast Within," Gybbon MacNachton spends his days searching for the Lost Ones—demons with the powerful MacNachton bloodline who are being hunted. When he stumbles upon Alice Boyd, living like a wild animal in the forest, she stirs a primitive lust deep within him—a lust that can only be sated by their explosive union.

In "The Vampire Hunter," by Heather Grothaus, Beatrix Levenach, as the last survivor of her family of witches, must protect the townspeople from vampires. But when her life is in danger, she is forced to accept help from Alder the White—a vampire from the clan who wiped out her ancestors. And when they discover an all-consuming passion, they must make the ultimate sacrifice for eternal love.

Victoria Dahl's "Laird of Midnight," introduces Finlay Maclain, who, for fifty years, has hunted the vampire clan who murdered his family and made him one of them. Now, he's sitting in a tavern, waiting for the last vampire he must kill. But a beautiful wench is distracting him beyond reason—and all he can think of is teasing her until she begs him to take her again and again.

Hannah Howell is an award-winning author who lives with her family in Massachusetts. She is the author of thirty Zebra historicals.

Ragnar the Cunning is always willing to make sacrifices to protect his Horde. But he simply refuses to put up with that insufferable, spoiled-brat, pain-in-his-tail dragon princess who has yet to meet a male she hasn't morally abused. It is true that the entire world seems to find her charming and sweet, but Ragnar can see that for the lie it is. Because Keita the Virtuous is anything but charming and sweet: She manipulates males the way Ragnar manipulates human royalty, and he refuses to be next on her list of conquests.

But soon the tables are abruptly turned in Ragnar's fight for Northland dominance, and he's forced to risk life, limb, and scales by going back into Southland territory. The solitary immortal dragons, the Eternal Ones, which gave up their chance to mate and breed hatchlings so that they could live forever, are now joining forces with those who fight against Ragnar and his troops. Ragnar knows there's a reason behind this allegiance—he's sure that the coldest, most brutal, and most uncaring dragons in the known universe must want something, but Ragnar has no idea what.

What he does know is that he needs to find a way to stop them. Ragnar risks everything to return to the Southlands with his brother and cousins. But what he never expects is to have to deal with her again.

As part of the Kahill clan's special operations "Kill team," Arlan is devoted to ridding the world of its most depraved human members. He's been asked by fellow clan member and FBI Agent Fia Kahill to assist in one of her investigations: the notorious Buried Alive Killer case. When Arlan meets with one of Fia's key informants, Macy Smith, he's completely unprepared for his response to the young woman. Achingly beautiful, Macy is everything Arlan wants in a woman—and the attraction is mutual. Although Arlan vowed he would never again fall in love with a human, he surrenders to his overpowering desire for Macy.

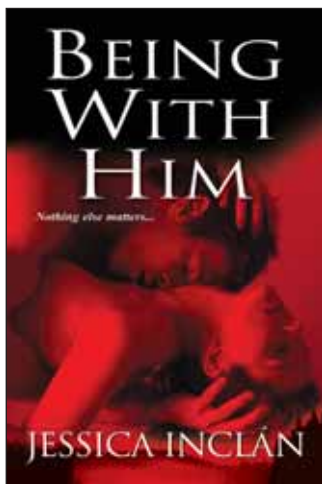

But Macy is a drifter with a past far darker than even Arlan can imagine. And when the Buried Alive Killer strikes again, he learns that she has a deep connection to the case—one that will put her in the crosshairs of the killer if Arlan can't find a way to protect her.

Months after leaving Hawthorne, Massachusetts, Maddie Crane is feeling almost normal again. Almost. She still dreams about the Sisters of Misery, the sinister group of powerful girls that ruled her old school, and of a terrible night on Misery Island that led to Cordelia LeClaire's disappearance.

But now an unexpected phone call is forcing Maddie to leave her Maine boarding school and return to Hawthorne to face the wrath of the sister she wronged. In this town layered in mystery, a centuries-old legacy is making itself known again, and Maddie may get all the answers she seeks...at a price.

In Prada Plan, readers meet Disaya Morgan, a person of meager beginnings who vowed never to be that way again. She's all about making money and doesn't care what she has to do to get it. If it's dangerous, that just means the payout will be that much sweeter. But when she learns that one of her business dealings is about to go horribly wrong, she's looking to get out for self-preservation. Could it be too late?

In Real Bitches Do Real Things, Jada Simone is one of the realest bitches in New York. She keeps it hood, and the hood loves her for it—until she writes a tell-all book. Now the hood that once loved her for keeping it real has ostracized her. It's left to Jada to make things right.

In Last Woman Standing, Londa is highly respected on the streets of Brooklyn for being a female hustler. She started making her paper with her partner, Blake, but when he gets sent upstate, she maintains by holding down the blocks by herself. She doesn't need her good looks to get her money like the other girls in her hood, and that's why even the male hustlers give her respect. Still, with all that money and power, Londa is looking to settle down. But as anyone from the streets can tell you, settling down is not that simple, especially when your partner gets out of prison. Now Londa is learning of lies, betrayal and deceit that she never saw coming. When she is asked to make one final score, will she fall victim to the corruption all around her or will she come out of this as the Last Woman Standing?

Ashley & JaQuavis currently reside in Flint, Michigan, and are working on their next novel.

Ayana Ellis grew up in the Bushwick section of Brooklyn, New York. In Bushwick Projects, she not only watched street life claim the lives and freedom of her closest friends and family, but she was also a part of it.
