The last sounds Dean Wilson hears are a clock striking twelve and a killer's taunting words. And his death is just the first. One by one, victims are stalked and shot at close range. Only the killer knows their sins, and who will be the next to die at midnight.

In the ten years since her Hollywood career imploded, Lorie Hammonds has built a good life in her Alabama hometown. When the first death threat arrives, she assumes it's a joke. Then she gets a second note. Sheriff Mike Birkett, her high-school sweetheart, has avoided Lorie since she returned to Dunmore, but when the investigators uncover her connection to the string of recent murders, he's drawn into a case that's terrifyingly personal.

With every murder, the killer edges closer. Soon Lorie's will be the last name left on his list. Her only hope is to unearth a deadly secret—before the clock runs out for good.

Turns out, Seattle is home to glamorous undead of every description, and Amanda—stylish and impeccably groomed even in the afterlife—is swigging cocktails and living large (so to speak) among its elite. But there are downsides. Not being able to stomach anything except alcohol and human flesh, for instance. And the fact that someone is targeting Seattle's otherworldly inhabitants for their own sinister reasons.

Preying on the undead is seriously uncool. The only option is for Amanda and her zombie BFF Wendy and gorgeous gay vampire pal Gil to unearth the culprit among the legions of Seattle's bloodsuckers, shapeshifters, reapers, succubi, and demons—before they all meet a fate a lot worse than death.

Samuel Castile and his wife Melody have an extraordinarily evil hobby: They capture, rape, and murder young women. Melody acts as the bait to lure the unsuspecting into their evil clutches. In her quest to keep her man from leaving her, she participates in the most vile exploits one could imagine. As they stalk, capture and kill, only two people stand in their way.

The other person is Kendall Stark, a detective with the Kitsap County Sheriff's office. Stark draws the connection between four murder victims scattered through out the Puget Sound region. One in Seattle, one in Tacoma, and two in Kitsap County.

Just when Serenity is ready to confront her sister, Samuel does the unthinkable. Serenity will be their next victim. Will Serenity figure it out in time? Will Kendall Stark make the connections? But police suspected there were many more.
