Dewey : The Small-Town Library Cat Who Touched the World

Vicki Myron with Bret Witter

DEWEY is the heartwarming story of Dewey Readmore Books, the beloved library cat as told by his owner and companion of nineteen years, Vicki Myron, the librarian who found him on a frigid January morning when he was abandoned as a kitten in the book drop slot.

Dewey's local charm and worldwide fame became a symbol of hope. Through Dewey's antics, we come to know and love the colorful and inspiring people of Spencer. But perhaps the most inspiring person in Spencer is Vicki Myron herself, a single mother who survived losing her family farm and supporting her brothers through college by working in a box factory to becoming one of the leaders of the Iowa library system.

Dewey is one lovable, roguish cat who managed to transform an entire town and inspire people across the globe.

VICKI MYRON was born on a farm fifteen miles from Spencer, Iowa. At the age of thirty-four, after a failed marriage, single motherhood, and a stint on welfare, she earned a university degree and her masters. She worked at the Spencer Public Library for twenty-five years, the last twenty as director.

BRET WITTER is a book editor and professional writer.
