WHEN YOU ARE ENGULFED IN FLAMES David Sedaris

"Surprisingly touching, candid, and humorous....Sedaris is still able to convey honest affection for his family. And that makes his humor all the more real." — The Boston Globe

This long-awaited collection of essays from the New York Times bestselling author David Sedaris is filled with even more wacky scenarios, uproarious humor and profound observations about the world as we know it. He makes the awkward memorable and life's bizarre moments laugh-out-loud funny: from an airplane mishap where a lozenge falls from his mouth into the lap of a sleeping fellow passenger, to armoring the windows with LP covers to protect the house from neurotic songbirds. Mixing mirth with wisdom, Sedaris reaches new heights in understanding love and fear, family and strangers. Don't miss out on David Sedaris' most highly-anticipated collection yet.

WHEN YOU ARE ENGULFED IN FLAMES

DAVID SEDARIS lives in France and England. Several of his plays have been produced, and he is a regular contributor to Esquire and Public Radio International's "This American Life." His essays have been featured in The New Yorker and Harper's. He is the author of the books Dress Your Family in Corduroy and Denim, Barrel Fever, Naked, Holidays on Ice, and Me Talk Pretty One Day.
