In 1987, Federal Agent Robert Mazur began infiltrating the bank behind the most powerful drug cartel in the world. Over five years, Mazur, posing as a money launderer, gained access to a criminal hierarchy that ran multibillion-dollar drug empires. Finally, after gathering meticulous evidence, a fake wedding was staged and over 40 high-ranking criminals were arrested and later found guilty. Never before told, this is the true story of Mazur's incredible undercover operation.

“The case was an enormous undertaking... one of the largest money laundering prosecutions in U.S. history.”

—Robert Mueller III, Director of the FBI

- Film rights to THE INFILTRATOR were optioned by 2929 Productions (The Road; Good Night, and Good Luck).
- Robert Mazur's undercover research revealed that drug cartels were moving their money to places such as Abu Dhabi, Bahrain, Dubai, and Oman—linking the War on Drugs with the War on Terror.
- Mazur's sting, Operation C-Chase, was one of the most successful undercover operations in the history of U.S. law enforcement.
- The drug trade generates more than 500 billion dollars in revenue each year, but the U.S. government can only track less than half of one percent of that money.
